Asheville was endorsed for 1912 National Convention.

Raleigh, May 5.—The North Carolina Division Travelers' Protective Association met here today in annual convention with J. J. Norman, Winston-Salem, as president. There are one hundred and fifty or more "knights of the grip" here and the meeting is proving one of special enjoyment and profit. The president's address felicitated the association on the unity of purpose among the members to stand together for needed reforms in accommodations that are provided for commercial travelers. They had not attained all they had striven for but much has been accomplished and more is in sight. The travelers were welcomed in fitting terms by Mayor James I. Johnson, who is himself a member and high official in the association of traveling men. The response which was in happy vein and to the point, was by Chas. F. Tomlinson, of High Point, who is national director. Soon after noon the travelers went in special cars to the State Fair Ground for the barbecue provided by the local post.

The reports of President Norman and Secretary and Treasurer McLean showed that North Carolina Division Travelers' Protective Association has grown the past year from 683 to 802 members and that the order is in a most flourishing condition. One new post, that at Hickory, was organized as Post K. President Norman recommended that the offering of prizes for applications for membership be continued. Awards were made for the past year, the following records being made: J. J. Norman, 21; E. W. McNairy, 10; B. H. Marsh, 20; C. F. Tomlinson, 30; G. J. Howard, 10; P. R. Masten, 12; C. G. Lee, 18; H. O. Miller, 14; J. T. Lassiter, 5. Carving sets, umbrellas, alarm clocks and a variety of other especially appropriate articles were among the prizes awarded.

There were reports by chairman of committees: Railroads, P. R. Masten; hotels, Jno. E. Call; legislature, James I. Johnson; press, B. H. Marsh; employment, J. T. Lassiter; sick and relief, J. S. Fuschies; good roads, R. J. Dunahoe. Also a report from Chas. G. Lee, attorney, Asheville.

There was special interest and discussion as to the legislative report and the report on good roads. The traveling men insist that they have not gotten their entitlements at the hands of the legislature as to the mileage-book issue and the pulling of the mileage on trains and they are still more resentful of the action of the corporation commission in exempting all but nine towns in the state from even the double window provision that the legislature gave in lieu of the "mileage-on-train" demand that the traveling men importuned the legislature for.

LEWIS WEST WAS EXECUTED YESTERDAY

Special to Telegram.

Raleigh, May 5.—Completely overcome so that he had to be supported to the death-chair Lewis West, the notorious Wilson outlaw, was electrocuted at 10:30 this morning in the presence of the limited number of spectators that the law allows. Quite a number of them were officers and citizens of Wilson here to see the passing of this noted criminal who had given them so much trouble.

West wept copiously and in a last word that he was permitted to say declared that he held nothing against anyone and hoped to meet all in Heaven. In a statement to his spiritual advisors, Rev. J. E. King and Rev. H. B. DeLaney, colored Episcopal ministers, he made a signed statement in which he made it clear that the negro, Stetson, who was given thirty years in the penitentiary as an accomplice, was really innocent of any part in the row that led up to the killing of Deputy Sheriff Munford, for which West was paying the death penalty. He stated that Stetson did none of the shooting and had no part in the store thefts for which the officers were attempting to arrest the company when Deputy Munford was killed. For the electrocution there was a single voltage of 1,800 that sufficed to bring death, although there was a second voltage given before he was taken from the chair.

OHIO OFFICIALS PLEAD NOT GUILTY TO BRIBERY CHARGE

Columbus, O., May 5.—State Senators George K. Cretone, I. E. Huffman and T. R. Andrews, Representatives A. C. Lowry and George B. Nye and Senate Sergeant-at-Arms Rodney J. Diegel, under indictment for soliciting bribes, were arraigned today and pleaded not guilty.

Each of the accused is preparing to fight, but the defenses are expected to be similar. The few statements made indicate a purpose to claim that dealings with the detectives were for the sole purpose of catching and exposing bribe givers.

In spite of the fact that the grand jury has adjourned until Monday, authentic reports today are to the effect that there will be at least one more indictment against a Representative and one against a Senator.

Prosecuting Attorney Turner admitted today that many unsigned communications have supplemented and strengthened the mass of evidence in his possession relating to corruption in the General Assembly.

Several members of the Legislature, including some who are believed to be under suspicion, have been in private conference with Prosecutor Turner and Attorney General Hogan. Some of them have been given hints of information in possession of the prosecution. Valuable admissions were secured before the visitors left, it is reported.

The accused Legislators, with the exception of Nye and Lowry, who were arraigned later, were brought in along with seven prisoners, one an accused murderer and others charged with petty thefts and burglary. The legislators sat down while being arraigned while the other prisoners stood up.

The number was unlucky 13—six connected with the legislature and seven others. Following the pleas of not guilty, the prosecutor fixed the time for trials as, week after next. Attorney Belcher, for the defendants, objected to trial at that time.

The court intimated the prosecutor might delay for a few days to give the defendants' attorneys more time.

Andrew Carnegie Is Hale and Hearty Nearing 74th Birthday

Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

ANDREW CARNEGIE will be seventy-four years old on Nov. 25 next, but he is still hale and hearty, and when he goes for a walk he moves along with a spry step that many men half his years do not have. Above is an excellent likeness of the great ironmaster made in New York only a few days ago, and with it is a picture of Mr. and Mrs. Carnegie, their daughter Margaret and Mrs. Carnegie's sister. Mr. Carnegie was in his fiftieth year when he married, and there is only the one child to inherit such millions as may be left after Mr. Carnegie has ceased giving away huge fortunes. Just now he is devoting his time principally to working for universal peace. He was recently the guest of honor at a "peace dinner" given by the New York Press club. In a brief speech he complimented the journalists on the work they are doing for peace, and he paid them a delicate compliment by saying that when he was young his greatest ambition was to become a reporter.

ELECTRIC COMPANY CHARTERED BY BURLINGTON MEN

Special to Telegram.

Raleigh, May 5.—The Piedmont Railway and Electric Company, Burlington, having one million dollars capital authorized, was chartered today with power to generate electric and other power, operate street railways and interurban lines and maintain theatres, parks and other pleasure resorts, in addition to doing a general development business. The charter specifies especially the construction of electric lines to connect Burlington, Graham, Haw River, Hopedale, Carolina and Glenco and operate anywhere in Guilford and Alamance counties within fifty miles of Burlington. J. M. Cook, Burlington, E. S. Parker, Jr., Graham, and A. L. Davis, Burlington, are the incorporators.

GENERAL NOGI HONORS HERO

St. Petersburg, May 5.—General Nogi, the Japanese hero of Port Arthur, is here to place wreaths upon the tomb of General Kourentenko, commander of the Seventh East Siberian Rifles, who was killed in the battle of Metre Hill in the Russo-Japanese war.

Dreadnought Not Badly Damaged.

Portsmouth, Eng., May 5.—The reports published in London papers on the damage to the Dreadnought cruiser Invincible while she was being docked here for an overhauling on Tuesday were greatly exaggerated. When the warship was docked it was found that some of the wooden blocks upon which the great weight rested had been improperly placed and it was necessary to float her and replace these blocks. The vessel was but little damaged.

REFORMED CHURCH CLASSIS MEETING IN THOMASVILLE

Special to Telegram.

Thomasville, May 5.—At the meeting of the North Carolina Classis of the Reformed church, which began Wednesday night, Rev. J. A. Foil, of Newton, was elected president; J. R. Hoffman, of Burlington, vice president; Rev. J. C. Leonard, stated clerk, and Rev. Shuford Peeler, of Greensboro, corresponding secretary.

Last night at 8 o'clock a special meeting for the laymen was held, at which addresses were made by C. C. Barnhart, of High Point, and Rev. J. D. Andrews of Burlington. Tonight at 8 o'clock an address on foreign mission work was delivered by Rev. J. P. Moore, who has labored in Japan for the past 28 years. The address was heard with much interest by a large audience.

A SENSATION AT WELLESLEY

Special to Telegram.

Cambridge, Mass., May 5.—Miss Viola White, of Brooklyn, a student at Wellesley College, has caused a big sensation by circulating a petition for signatures, asking the trustees of Wellesley College to refund $150,000 given the college by John D. Rockefeller eight years ago. The word "tainted" money is used in the petition.

Attended Target Practice.

Nine members of Company I, Mt. Airy, were in the city for a while last night, returning home from Gastonia where they participated in the target practice. The rifle team left on the Winston train.

DRUNKENNESS ON INCREASE IN RALEIGH LAST YEAR

Ninety-Seven More Drunks Arrested Than During Previous Year—Wake Farmers Want Farm Life School—Text Books to be Selected in June.

Special to Telegram.

Raleigh, May 5.—Joseph G. Brown, of this city, has returned from Memphis, Nashville, Atlanta, New Orleans, San Antonio and Oklahoma City with other members of the committee of the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, for the selection of the place of meeting for the next General Conference in 1914. It will be some time yet before the final selection will be made. This was a sort of tour of inspection with a view to determining the best place for the next session.

The annual report of the Police Department of Raleigh through the police commission, just made public, shows that there were 677 arrests in Raleigh for drunkenness during the past year, 580 during the previous year and 268 during 1908-9. There was expended last year $19,300 for maintenance of the department. The total arrests for the year were 1,807 and of these 1,582 were convicted.

The Wake County Farmers' Union is moving for a farm life school to be established in Wake. To this end a special meeting is called for Raleigh May 13 with a preliminary mass meeting in which people generally are to participate. The movement is for a bond issue of $25,000 and provision of $2,500 annually for maintenance, this being required in order that the further allowance of $2,500 annually may be obtained from the legislature under the special act of the last legislature.

It is authoritatively learned that there is to be no announcement of the names of the six educators of the state who are to serve as members of the sub-text book commission until these gentlemen actually come to Raleigh to begin their work of examining the text books offered by the book concerns in competition for state adoption by the state text-book commission. They will not begin their work, either, until around June 1 as they are all now busily engaged with their regular school work. The sub-commission is selected by the superintendent of public instruction and other members of the state text-book commission who are the state officers constituting the council of state. The sub-commission, under the amended law, is to have equal voting power with the state officers in book adoption. It is expected that the final adoption, which is for five years, will take place before July 1 and Supt. Joyner has to go thereafter to the session of the National Educational Association to meet this time in California. And he wants to have this adoption out of the way before he leaves.

Governor Kitchin has received an accepted resignation of F. B. Hendren as a member of the board of trustees for the State School for Feeble-minded, provision for the establishment of which was made by the recent legislature through a $60,000 bond issue and provision for the town securing the location to provide land and more money. Mr. Hendren is chairman of the Wilkesboro school board and cannot retain this and serve for the state school. Friends of Frank Hackett, who is grandmaster of the grand lodge of Odd Fellows, are urging upon the governor his appointment to succeed Mr. Hendren.

BELL COMPANY OVERHAULS ITS SPENCER EXCHANGE.

Spencer, May 5.—The Southern Bell Telephone Company has begun work on the rebuilding of its plant in Spencer, which will be done at a cost of $18,000. A new and modern common battery system will displace the magneto plant now in use. Several miles of cable will be strung, including a large cable to Salisbury through which all lines will be connected with the Salisbury exchange. The work is being done under the direction of J. L. Moore, division agent and superintendent at Charlotte.

PRESIDENT DIAZ REFUSES TO GIVE UP HIS OFFICE

Cabinet Urges This Step Without Success—Rebels Resume Warfare—Uncle Sam Must Intervene Says Gen. Wood.

Special to Telegram.

Mexico City, May 5.—President Diaz, for twenty-six years at the head of the Mexican government, today defied his enemies, repudiated his perfidious friends and refused to accede to the demands of the foes of the present government and step down and out of his self-created office. The cabinet met at 10 o'clock and urged Diaz to resign, but failed to move him.

With the dawn of morning came the news that Torreon had fallen and at noon there came the report that the rebels had taken Rio Verde, between San Lucas Potosi and Tampico, killing Jefe Politico and getting in a position to cut off the railroad communications with Tampico.

General Blanquet, leaving Puebla with 1,200 men, fought the rebels at Colon and returned with only 200, the remainder of his force having been killed or had deserted.

Intervention Must Come.

Special to Telegram.

Washington, May 5.—President Taft is awaiting further developments from Mexico before taking action regarding the situation. It is feared, however, that with the retirement of Diaz there will spring up at once half a dozen men, each with a considerable following, ready to assert their claims to the presidency.

Before the House committee on military affairs today General Leonard Wood said that intervention on the part of the United States must come, that the conditions in Mexico are such that troops will have to be sent there to protect the lives and property of Americans. It will take more than 200,000 soldiers to police Mexico, said General Wood, but, in my opinion, it is unavoidable.

Six Die In Mine Fire.

Special to Telegram.
Negaunee, Mich., May 5.—Six miners perished in a fire on the fourth level of the Hartford mine today. The cause of the fire has not been discovered. Five bodies have been recovered.

SHOE MACHINERY TRUST TARGET FOR CONGRESS

Special to Telegram.

Washington, May 5.—Coincident with the determination of the Democrats in the House to place boots and shoes on the free list, and with revelations at both ends of the Capitol in regard to the operations of the United Shoe Machinery Company of Boston, Congressman Peters of Massachusetts today introduced a bill to amend the patent laws which, while general in its terms, is believed to be aimed at the United Shoe Machinery Company.

WOMAN MAYOR MET ALONE.

Flocked by Herself While Hostile Councilmen Went Elsewhere.

Wellington, Kan., May 5.—Hunnewell, Kan., has a dual government, the five Councilmen meeting in one place and Mrs. Ella Wilson, the Mayor, meeting in another. Mrs. Wilson has the records and therefore won the first scrimmage with the Council.

At an adjourned meeting held last week it was ordered that a room in the hotel be rented for holding Council meetings, the new Mayor putting the motion and declaring it carried. The Councilmen rented the room for the regular meeting this week and all met there last night, but the Mayor did not attend. With a number of her friends and political supporters she "met" at the feed store of W. E. Hilton, taking with her the clerk's journal. The five Councilmen sent a messenger to the Mayor with a note demanding that she appear and bring the clerk's journal. This she declined to do. Her meeting at once broke up and she took the books home.

It was Mrs. Wilson's intention to present the names of Mrs. W. E. Milton and Mrs. G. A. Osborn for city clerk and city marshal, but she learned that the Council was prepared to oppose the appointments. The Councilmen believe that the Mayor will meet with them next Monday night, to which time they adjourned, but Mrs. Wilson refused today to say what her plans are for the next meeting.

Madero May Attack Juarez.

Special to Telegram.

El Paso, Texas, May 5.—Insurrecto leaders, after waiting 24 hours for an answer from Diaz, tonight are of the opinion that if Diaz does not announce his intention of resigning by tomorrow at noon that an attack on Juarez, as well as a conclusion of the armistice for the Chihuahua district, is imminent.

Madero was sounded tonight by one of the federal commissioners to ascertain whether he would consent to an extension of the armistice which expires tomorrow. Madero replied that he would answer that question tomorrow morning. He said, however, that if the extension was asked by the federal government he would demand specific reasons for said extension before granting it.

El Paso, Texas, May 5.—Cherishing the hope that history might repeat itself and that the same General Diaz who crushed the invasion of Napoleon III, at the Battle of Puebla, would choose the anniversary again to save the honor of his country, this time by a public announcement of his intention to relinquish the presidency he has held so many years, insurrecto leaders at the Madero camp, across the Rio Grande, waited expectantly today for news from Mexico City.

Judge Carbajal, the government peace envoy to whom the three insurgent commissioners yesterday presented General Madero's suggestion that President Diaz make public the private assurance already given of his intention to resign, remained in his room at a hotel here to receive telegraphic instructions as to how to deal with the rebel demand.

Dr. Vasquez Gomez, head of the rebel peace commission, also decided to stay in El Paso until Judge Carbajal should advise him of a reply from Mexico City, the envoys of both sides deeming it useless to go to the neutral meeting ground across the river until a definite answer to yesterday's proposition had been received.

Anglo-Japan Treaty Ratified.

Tokio, May 5.—Ratifications of the Anglo-Japan commercial treaty were exchanged today.

Great Britain and Japan negotiated a commercial treaty which will come into force on July 17, replacing the existing treaty expiring on July 16. The new pact removes opposition of British merchants to the recently adopted Japanese tariff which heavily increased the duty on British manufactures, as Japan grants reductions varying from 12 to 30 cents upon a large number of British imports.

Mayor Gaynor says Charles H. Hyde
is all right; so it is fair to presume
that Hyde escaped with a whole hide.

There is plenty of opportunity for
able-bodied people who want work right here in Greensboro. They can get permanent jobs swatting the flies.

Columbia State brags about the number of conventions held in that city. Columbia is probably trying to be the Greensboro of South Carolina.

That Baltimore peace congress can find plenty of work to do down in Mexico. They are having some difficulty in pulling off a peace congress, without having a big fight, down there.

Wilmington Dispatch calls upon the Peace Congress to squelch Mr. Hobson.
That is altogether unnecessary. Mr.
Hobson is harmless, despite the fact that he is not alarmless.

The Durham Herald thinks that even if commission government works all right in this city some folks will not be willing to admit it. This is undoubtedly true. Some people take the view that whatever they are opposed to is wrong.

Baltimore wants the next national convention of the Democratic party.
Greensboro would be a better place.
This city is nearer the geographical and population centers of the country than Baltimore, and has an auditorium big enough to house the convention.

The Columbia State speaks of the campaign for soft beds in South Carolina. As South Carolinians are living hard under the administration of Governor Bleasie, it is right that they should have soft beds upon which to lay their weary frames at night.

Says the Wilmington Dispatch:
"They are going to make seamless
hosiery in Concord. How about seamless hosiery?" Nobody would buy the latter. Hosiery is worn to be seen. At least, that is the impression most of the female wearers seem to be endeavoring to create.

Uncle Andy Carnegie says this country needs missionaries. Men or women to do missionary work in some parts of this country would be entitled to recognition by Uncle Andy's hero fund commission. The heroism of a person engaged in active missionary work in
New York or Boston would stand unchallenged.

It costs the city of Birmingham, Ala.,
$21,000 a year to have three commissioners. Birmingham's commissioners are paid salaries of $7,000 each. They have already effected a saving of about $80, 000 per year for the city, however; and the Birmingham people will be forced to conclude that the investment of $21,
000 in commissioners pays big dividends.

In interview in which he scored Governor Wilson, Colonel Roosevelt and others, ex-Governor Samuel W. Pennypacker of Pennsylvania says that legislators should give the people what they need and not what they want. Perhaps

Mr. Pennypacker has never heard the old saying about leading a horse to water. It is not always possible to force the people to accept what they do not want—not even when that is best for them.

The slogan of the Greensboro commission must be Business. They were elected to give this city a business administration of every department of the municipal government. To do this it will be necessary to eliminate petty politics,
favoritism, personal preferences and all
the motives which usually control men
in office. A business administration is what the people are expecting from the commission; and if the commission
fails to give Greensboro a business administration, commission government
will prove as unsatisfactory as the old system of municipal government.

The Telegram stands squarely for the advancement of Greensboro all along the line. This newspaper has no political ax to grind. In fact, it has no ax of any sort to be ground at the public expense. This newspaper is one of the business institutions of the city and it proposes to do business with all on a business basis; but outside the province
of business, it proposes to stand for and advocate those things it believes will contribute to the upbuilding and the advancement of Greensboro. The Telegram has its own opinions in regard to matters concerning the public welfare; in regard to questions of public policy; political principles, moral issues,
civic problems; and with due respect for the opinions of all honest men. The Telegram proposes to stick to its convictions until convinced of the fact that
its position is wrong.

The Greenville, S. C., Piedmont announces an increase of advertising rates. A few months ago the Piedmont
was in bankruptcy. George R. Koester,
a first class newspaper man, was induced to buy it. Mr. Koester announces that he has found out what was the matter with the Piedmont, causing it
to fail, and he says it was the fact that its advertising rates were too low. Mr.
Koester has raised the rates and tells the business men of Greenville very frankly that they will have to pay higher advertising rates if they expect the Piedmont to exist and do credit as a newspaper to the city. Conditions in Greenville are matched by conditions in almost every other town in the country.
Advertising is the largest source of daily
newspaper income, and if the advertising rates are not high enough the newspaper is bound to lose money or fail to measure up to the desired standard as a newspaper. The people of any city can have just as good newspapers as they are willing to support;
and it is a certainty that those cities
that are dissatisfied with their newspapers could have better papers if they would support them.

GREATEST GOOD TO GREATEST NUMBER THE BASIS OF TARIFF REFORM.

The standpatters want protection for what there is in it for themselves and their friends. Those who believe in tariff reform want the tariff revised downward for the same reason. The tariff reformers have right on their side,
however, because the number of people
who profit by protection is very small compared with the number who will profit by the lowering of the tariff.

The greatest good to the greatest number is a fundamental Democratic doctrine. The government must be so conducted as to conserve the interests of the many and not solely for the purpose
of placing money in the pockets of the few. Therefore, the tariff reformers are right and the reactionaries and stand-
patters are wrong.

Tariff reform will help the great majority of the country's people and it will not deprive the few protected manufacturers of a dollar to which they are honestly entitled. It will reduce the profits of their businesses, undoubtedly; but their businesses will still be able to earn dividends. They have been earning greater dividends than they are entitled to, through the exactions of the protective tariff, and the people have been robbed by being forced to pay
more than they are worth for the products of protected industries. Lowering the tariff will equalize prices and will relieve the masses of some of the ex-actions of the protective system, and
at the same time will not injure any industry of this country.

The proof of this latter assertion lies in the fact that American manufacturers compete with the manufacturers
of the world in markets outside of this country and generally undersell the manufacturers of other countries. They sell American made goods in the markets of the world at lower prices than

the same goods are sold at in this country.

That is ample evidence of the fact
that these industries do not need protection; and it is ample proof of the fact that American consumers are being overcharged for these articles.

It is knowledge of these facts which has opened the eyes of citizens of this country to the real operations of the protective system, and to the fact that millions of citizens have for half a century been deluded by the advocates of the protective system. The majority of the people of this country, both Democrats and Republicans, understand very clearly what the country needs and wants in the shape of tariff revision and
reduction, and they purpose to get it.
The political party which obstructs the
avenue leading to genuine tariff reform
will be smashed; and individuals who oppose the wishes of the people in this respect will be landed in political oblivion.

VALUE OF ADVERTISING IN THE TELEGRAM.

Estimating on a conservative basis
ten thousand people read each issue of The Telegram. Every one of these people is a possible reader of every advertisement in the columns of this paper.
On that basis the advertiser has the opportunity to have his advertisement
read by ten thousand people twenty-
six days in each month—or a possible 260,000 chances in each month of having his advertising read.

The man who thinks newspaper advertising does not pay is invited to consider these figures. The man who does not believe advertising in The Telegram
will pay him to consider them. Let him
figure the cost of reaching ten thousand
people twenty-six times in each month
through the medium of hand bills, letters
or any other known method except newspaper advertising, and balance the cost of this advertising against the cost of advertising in The Telegram.

Another thing to the advantage of newspaper advertising in a paper like
The Telegram is the fact that a very large proportion of its readers read the advertisements each day. The Telegram
is nearly fourteen years old, and there are people in this city and county who have been reading it steadily from the first issue. This paper has many subscribers who have been reading it for ten years or more. To these people this paper is an old friend. They believe in it; look for its daily visits with pleasurable anticipation; they read it carefully, news and advertising columns,
and are impressed by what they see in
it. These facts make The Telegram a result getter for advertisers.

Make It a Success.

Wilmington and Greensboro are the two cities in North Carolina which have adopted the commission plan of municipal government. In spite of the fact that this form of government has proven
a success in more than a hundred American cities, it is alluded to as an experiment in Wilmington and Greensboro. There are those who have their doubts about it, and with that class the Greensboro Telegram of Tuesday reasons
as follows:

"The commissioners for Greensboro
will be elected today, and soon the public will be able to determine whether the advocates of the commission or those who oppose it are right in their estimate of its value in settling municipal problems. Those who know commission government is going to be a
failure are not numerous in the city,
but they are vociferous. Every good citizen who is interested in the welfare,
the future growth and prosperity of Greensboro trusts that the expectations
of the opponents of the commission will not be realized."

It is quite reasonable for men to doubt
the expediency of any form of government, but there is no room for "opponents of the commission" or of any other form of government. When any form of government is adopted and honestly
and efficiently administered it should have no opponents except those who violate law. It is the opponents of law and the violators of law who nullify
laws and bring government into contempt. No one should be an "opponent"
of law, but its exponent till it is given a fair trial. All forms of law would prove a failure if they had enough opponents and violators. The "opponents"
should eliminate themselves at once.

Well, we must make it a success. If it isn't a success it will be the fault of the people of Wilmington. They now have the reins in their own hands, for
the "recall" provision in the new charter empowers the voters to take down any
commissioner, or any set of commissioners,
who doesn't do his best to make it a success. The councilmen have a string tied to them and when they begin to slip
up in administering the city government,
all the voters have to do is to yank the
string and down comes an incompetent,
an obstructionist, a reactionary or a malcontent.

When such a thing as the "recall" is in the hands of the people they have the whip-hand and it is for the voters to supervise their councilmen and keep them on their job, so the success of the commission plan of government depends upon the people. If they back it up it

—Macaulay in New York World.

is bound to be a success. It has been remarked that "the commission plan is on trial in Wilmington." In fact and in truth, it is the people of Wilmington who are on trial. Their government under any plan is what the people
make it, and especially will that be the case under the commission plan with
the "recall" in the hands of the voters
to be invoked at their will. The "recall"
may make lots of trouble, but that is what it is intended for. It is intended to make trouble for the official that does not enforce the law, the official who can't make good, and the official who can't fill the bill. If the voters make a mistake in selecting their officials the
"recall" enables the citizens to correct
their mistake right away at the ballot box.

People often blame their officials for
what the community is responsible for.
Communities have characters, but where
the community is law-abiding its officials have easy sailing. Breathitt county, Ky., has an unenviable reputation
for lawlessness and all the officials in Christendom could not enforce order in Breathitt until the character of the community is reformed. Who would want to be sheriff in a county where it is common practice to carry a pistol and shoot a fellow for putting on airs, perhaps for not having his hair cut to suit
a thug. Eliminate the element of thuggery in the character of Breathitt county and its sheriff wouldn't have much to do and wouldn't have to be blamed
for not doing what it is impossible to do.

It depends on what a community
stands for, or it is not willing to stand
for, as to whether it will have a character for being an orderly, law-abiding community. A competent people means a competent government, or they will know the reason why and apply the remedy. Things may go wrong a while in any community, but they won't go wrong very long unless the community
is subservient and stands for it.—Wilmington Star.

A CLEAN SWEEP

(By CARA REESE.)

Cheer up; the clean sweep invariably
comes to those who have the least.

You recall what the poor woman in the story said: "La sakes, never mind,
the creditors always sweep the clean-
get where there is less to sweep." That is, they make a clean sweep of the smaller debtor. The one who owes a great deal more sometimes is let off
with a lighter cleansing; he is allowed
his bed and board, perhaps the family portraits and silver. But the small debtor must get the loan of a meal and hammock so thoroughly, he is cleaned out.

This is something like troubles.
When they begin to knock at the humble door they knock with a broom in hand. It is a clean sweep they are after. There have been hard working and diligent folks living in cabins or in bungalows who have awakened in the morning to find that the only pig
in the back yard had smothered in its own fat, or the rats had carried off
the first output of spring chickens. They have scarcely started to mourn their loss before some one comes running
to inform them that the old "hoss" has played out, or there is something the matter with the "gear" or the sparkplug; there is no getting to village or train that day except by endurance
walking.

The first rural free delivery of the day brings bad news. There might be further ill news had the place a telephone. But one disaster after another occurs and there is nothing to do but
to wait for the first helpful wayfarer coming that way in a rig. Oh, everything happens. The bread burns, the dog shows tendency toward hypo-
phobia, someone is seized with premoni-tory symptoms of appendicitis. Then the chimney takes fire and the whole place is cleaned out and the family

obliged to trudge a mile to the next neighbor. And this is nothing to what is going on elsewhere in the lowlands
and uplands and downlands in other localities and habitations.

If only you might get a grip on the broom of misfortune like a rollicking
witch comes to sweep your skies, you might at least give misfortune a tussle.
A clean sweep by mischance is a cleanliness akin to paralysis more than anything else. And yet a clean sweep
by ill-luck has one advantage, namely,
you are able to start anew without the remnants of former greatness or grandeur to hamper.

You might as well cheer up. If the sweep has been a clean one, there remains no course of action but to start over again and to profit—if you have the courage to profit—by your experiences. Troubles rarely come singly.
One trouble usually drags in another as a natural sequence. Expense is ever attendant on illness. In meeting expense it is possible to run behind. In running back there is a trailload of an-noyances. Still, you are not alone.
There are others fighting their heroic
way through a sea of troubles.

But there are others who are catching up a little here and there, they are meeting one demand after another, they are bent on sweeping as clean—in fortune as ever they were swept in misfortune. Cheer up, the clean sweep means a new beginning.

Matching the Eyes

(By CONSTANCE CARRUTHERS.)

The touch of velvet near the face,
matching the color of the eyes, has long been popular with the women who study their own beauties, and this has been easy to manage in these days of
quaint little bows and pippings.

Of late, however, the women of the smart set have taken to wearing flowers
which carry out the color, too. There are pansies that are for the brown-eyed girl, forget-me-nots for blue eyes, and orchids for the maid with hazel eyes.

The girl with grey eyes is the only one who has any trouble, for all she can find to match her eyes is the humble
dusty miller leaf. Sometimes she fancies
her eyes, however, are "grey-blue," or
"green-grey," so she varies her color
scheme with orchids, mignonette, or dull
blue blossoms. If she is quite convinced that her eyes are really "matchless"
she contents herself with the feeling of superiority arising therefrom, and lets
the jewels of her face sparkle unrivalled
or wears the modest violet, which would never presume to resemble the eyes
above them.

When natural blooms are not procur-
able the woman with an eye for flowers
buys artificial ones of the required tint.

Parisian ingenuity has gone one step further in this art, and provides for its leaders of fashion real flowers dyed with chemical dyes in any desired color or shade. Hardy flowers, such as camellias, carnations, and all varieties whose stems are good absorbers are placed in the liquid and allowed to stay there until exactly the right amount of color
has been absorbed.

Woe to the florist who gets his charges
a shade too dark, or who makes such
a fatal mistake as to send blue carnations to the fair one who ordered brown
ones.

It is not expected that the interests
affected should favor a reduction in the tariff schedule, but the people from whom the duty is collected have views
on the matter and they were expressed plainly if not convincingly at the last election.—Durham Herald.

dispute in Illinois one gets the idea that

His Successful Day.

A busy man, much engrossed with his newspaper, when leaving a street car one morning absent-mindedly picked up an umbrella belonging to a man sitting
next to him.

The latter protested, and our friend,
greatly mortified, apologized earnestly.

On his way home from business that
evening he called at his wife's request,
for three umbrellas she had left at a shop and on the way home found that the umbrella owner of the morning
should be his nearest neighbor on the homeward car. He eyed the first man and his umbrellas keenly, and at last
said quietly, but suspiciously: "I see you have had a successful day!"

JOHNSON WOULD BE INVINCIBLE WITH WINNER

Record of Washington's Star Pitcher Proves Handicap Which Losing Team Puts on Great Pitcher.

Probably no baseball player in the country is being more discussed by the fans than Walter Johnson, the Washington's American star twirler. Just before the season opened Walter quit and refused to sign a contract because he did not receive his demand for an increase in salary. Johnson wanted $7,500 and a three year contract. After a little dickering the club compromised, and he attached his John Hancock to a paper calling for $21,000 for the next three years.

Some Washington critics claim that Johnson's demands were too great and his record did not warrant the increase and that he was not with a first division team. More raps were handed out when the big fellow was beaten in his 1911 debut.

In contrast to this are fans and critics in his home and other cities who are raving over the Idaho wonder. Wise men, baseballically, with whom the historic names of baseball are as familiar as their own, have hummed his praises and have placed him on a pedestal with the greatest of the great.
Yet there are those—those things—which do him injustice. Records are often a court of resort upon which judgment of a player is based. Just think what one's opinion of Walter Johnson would be if one scanned the pitching averages during the time Walter Johnson has lingered among the American leaguers and based his opinion of Johnson on those averages alone!

Walter broke into the big show during the season of 1907. Since that time he has been successful only once in gathering more victories in any one season than losses. A perusal of the records of 1910 will show that that was the only year in which Johnson glided above the halfway mark.

In the four years in which he has steamed the sphere over the rubber for Washington he has gained a higher average than that of his club. Even in 1909, the year of the big hurricane for Washington, which resulted in the demise of Joe Cantillon as a major league manager and in a final average of .276 for Washington, Johnson won thirteen games and lost twenty-five, which gave him an average of .342.

To pass from Johnson's individual prowess, it is interesting to contemplate what effect a winning club will have upon a pitcher's fame and his place in the hearts of the fans.

Imagine for a moment where Johnson would rank if placed with a team which finished one, two, three. Imagine how that pill would look to the opposition as it sailed over the plate when Johnson had the confidence bonus of repeated victories. Imagine the joy of a high class club playing behind a pitcher whom every club held in awe.

Some people have even gone so far as to say that Johnson never would lose a game if connected with a pennant winner. Of course that's absurd.

The mere presence of a man of that caliber in the box is half the victory. Around the Washington club's bench any day that Johnson is scheduled to pitch one can hear the players say: "Well, there's nothing to it today. Walter is going to pitch." These players go out on the field expecting to win, take chances which they would not take with a less reliable man in the box.

The opposing manager gets a hunch that Johnson is scheduled to work. "There's no use spilling a good pitcher against this fellow," he will say to himself or one of his lieutenants. He'll practically admit from the start that his team is due to be defeated, and he will send in one of his unrelies to take a chance.

That's the reward a pitcher gets for being a star and the reward a club gets for having that pitcher on its payroll.

ABE ATTELL HAS HIS OWN TROUBLES.

Abe Attell, the featherweight champion, has his troubles. Abie, claiming that his shoulder went back on him, fought a draw with Frankie Burns in New York recently. Now several critics are not certain that Attell was hurt at all. Some say he did it for effect; others swear it was on the level.

Peculiar position Attell is in. If he knocks out an opponent with a punch they say he was planting suckers; if he goes the limit and just shades his man they say he stalled; if it is a very close go and he barely noses his way to win they say he is planting the bird in the moth balls for a future date. Able certainly gets it going and coming. Attell is now appearing on the vaudeville circuit and will not enter the ring again for six months.

Peter Gannon, the young Argentinian who holds the amateur golf championships of France, Italy and Austria, will pay a visit to Canada soon and also make a detour to play in the American amateur championships on the Apawamis course at Rye, N. Y.

The strength of Gannon's game can be judged from the fact that in the French championship he beat Brokaw, who won all his matches against the Oxford and Cambridge Golfing society when that body visited the United States.

In the Italian championship Gannon defeated another strong American amateur in E. S. Knapp, who carries the heavy handicap of plus six and wins competitions from it, on the Rome club's course at Agua Santa, where the championship of Italy is played.

This year he is off to a fine start and promises to give Christy Mathewson a hard run for the twirling leadership. Moore's size and speed, not to speak of other effective factors of his delivery, make him a very formidable figure on the mound.

eral years ago. He agreed to work for $3 a week. After being with the club two weeks he went to Manager Armour and said:

"Mr. Armour, when I signed for $3 a week I was under the impression that you would pay my board while the team was at home."

"All right, Earl; I'll increase your salary to $12 a week."

This was highly satisfactory to the young man. Two years later he was flinging them over for Cleveland for $3,500 for the season. His arm went back on him, and he was sent to the minors. A winter's rest did him a world of good, and he made such a fine showing the following season that the Philadelphia club signed him.

PLAYS MARBLES WITH TOES.

Novel Exercise Prescribed for Rich Man Who Has Foot Trouble.

Cincinnati, May 5.—"You will have to continue to play marbles with your toes until you are able to pick up the marble and place it in your hand with them."

This prescription was given to M. E. Moch, director in the Union Gas and Electric Company and vice president of the Cincinnati Trust Company, which is Cox's bank, this afternoon, by Dr. Albert C. Freiberg.

Mr. Moch went to the physician and complained that his feet had given out and he could hardly walk. Dr. Freiberg had him undress the members and then put a marble on the floor and asked him to pick it up with his toes. Of course, Moch couldn't accomplish the task. Then he was told to try this every morning for an hour. When he has practiced the "stunt" for a full month he is to go back to Dr. Freiberg and show him how it is done.

The physician said that Mr. Moch's right foot is simply out of whack. A tendon or a small bone has slipped a cog, and he says that to "get the recalcitrant pedal member in proper juxtaposition again this marble will have to be used assiduously." Mr. Moch says he will practice an hour each morning, but that, so far as "that juxtaposition business is concerned, I don't think much of it." Mr. Moch says he never played golf, but thinks that an easy game compared to his "marbles in the bed-chamber" stunt.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

HINTS FOR HOUSEWIVES.

Many Suggestions Which Busy Women May Find Useful.

A little soap or black lead rubbed on the hinge of a squeaking door will often remedy matters.

Brown boots may be blackened by rubbing the blacking well into the shoes with a raw potato and then polishing.

A nut pick kept on the kitchen table is a most convenient article for removing the paper cover from the milk bottles.

Soak new brooms in strong hot salt water before using. This toughens the bristles and makes the brooms last longer.

A rusty grate can be cleaned with little trouble if it is blackened and then left for twenty-four hours or even for a couple of days. The black lead will absorb the rust, and the steel can then be polished in the ordinary way.

Black goods, especially when they become aged, take on a grayish hue. This defect can be remedied by cleaning the piece thoroughly with alcohol. The fluid does not injure black crape and is especially good when used on black hats.

If water be of little use when cleaning lamp chimneys which have become very much blackened with smoke the experiment should be made of mixing a little spirits of wine with the water. This will remove the grease which is contained in the lamp-balls.

To remove the smell of fresh paint put a pail of cold water in the room and change it every two or three hours.

To prevent white fabrics, such as tulle or silk evening gowns, choice lace or crape shawls, from becoming yellow when packed away sprinkle bits of white wax freely among the folds.

In making cookies if the dough is thoroughly chilled it will not only be lighter, but will not stick to the board when rolling. Some housekeepers also chill their doughnuts before frying.

To remove grease from a kitchen table scrub well with hot water to which half a teaspoonful of whiting has been added; wipe and then dry thoroughly with a clean cloth. This will make the table look equal to new.

Mutton dripping will not set hard and sticky, as it usually does, if directly the fat is poured from the baking tin the vessel containing it is put at the back of the stove and allowed to stay there until the stove itself cools.

Immediately pudding cloths have been used scald them and wash them thoroughly, using soda, but no soap, and hang them up to dry. A great deal of trouble is saved in this way, for if left till cold it is most difficult to wash them. Let them air well before they are put away or they will have a nasty odor when next used.

New Ribbon Ornaments. The rondelay and the quatre bow—sounds like poetry, doesn't it? Well, these fashionable frills are poetic in a sense. Ora Cne—yes, he spells his name just so—is a man milliner of renown who has devised some astounding things in ribbon manipulation.

Two of this genius' creations are shown in the picture. What he calls the rondelay bow has twenty-six loops mounted on a circular wire five inches in diameter. You can use it either on a large hat or as a gown garniture. The quatre bow shown beneath is adaptable to many uses.

An Economical Steak. Rolled steak made as follows is substantial and, as it is stewed, will not spoil if kept waiting a little while: Get two pounds of buttock steak in one piece. Make a forcemeat with six ounces of bread crumbs, three ounces of suet flavored with sweet herbs, a little onion, chopped bacon, pepper and salt. Bind with an egg. Dip the steak into vinegar, spread with the stuffing and roll up and tie in a nice shape with tape. Place it in a stewpan, just cover with hot stock or water and stew very gently for two and a half to three hours. To serve take off the tape, put the meat on a hot dish, thick-en and color the gravy and pour over.

COTTON LETTER TO J. E. LATHAM.

New Orleans, La., May 5.—Liverpool, with the best supply of all markets, continues steady, considering the break in our markets yesterday. Futures barely conformed to our decline; spots 5 lower; sales 7,000.

The map shows cloudy weather in Oklahoma, West Texas, Mississippi, and the Atlantic coast districts. Generally fair elsewhere. No rain except in Oklahoma and Florida. Temperatures stationary and for the past three days they have been about ten degrees lower than last year; indications for generally fair weather in the central and Eastern belt today. Increasing cloudiness in the West and rain developments to come from the West over Sunday. Complaints of unseasonably low temperatures are general from Texas, also.

A party traveling in Texas writes as follows: "Entirely too cold. Plant in Northern half of Texas sickly looking and unless it gets warm soon it will give out entirely. The prevailing opinion is that a large portion of early planted cotton will have to be replanted. What seemed to be an excellent start three weeks ago has turned into a late, bad start."

There was further easiness around the opening of the market today with selling based, as it was yesterday, on the absence of rain over the greater part of the belt and anticipation of an unfavorable statement this evening.

UNIONS IN POSTAL SERVICE WOULD IMPERIL GOVERNMENT

Special to Telegram.

Washington, May 5.—"The organization of labor unions by the railway mail clerks would be a peril to the government," said Second Assistant Postmaster General Stewart before the House committee on reform in the civil service today at the hearing on the Lloyd bill relating to the removal of employees of the government in classifying the civil service. "If such things were permitted," he continued, "the service would become disorganized and the control would pass from the department into the hands of the labor organizations."

WOULD MAKE EACH STATE RESPONSIBLE FOR OUTRAGES.

Baltimore, Md., May 5.—The chief feature on the program today at the third national peace congress was the report of the committee on resolutions. One of the resolutions endorsed the proposed Anglo-American arbitration treaty and called for its ratification.

Another asked that congress pass such acts as would make the government hold each state responsible for any outrage committed upon the person of property of foreign subjects within the state. Still another resolution approved the proposed celebration of the 100 years of peace between English speaking nations and pledged its support to the movement.

At the forenoon session Dr. T. Iyenaga, a native of Japan, and a professor in the University of Chicago, spoke on "Peace in Asia." Dr. Iyenaga said that what vitally concerned Japan was the continuation of peace in Asia and scouted the idea of war between Japan and the United States.

HANDSOME FURNITURE BEING PLACED HERE.

C. O. Forbis has completed the furnishing of Mr. A. J. Klutz' handsome residence at Library Place, in which he has placed a number of the most handsome suits of period furniture ever brought to this market, designs of those rare artists and craftsmen such as Sheraton, Heppelwhite and Flanders, whose masterpieces live through the ages, and are reproduced today while they have many years ago gone to their reward.

Self Evident.
"Men are but children of a larger growth."
"Pshaw!"
"Fact."
"Well, while it is hard on the children, I must say that some of them didn't grow very far."

Made an Impression.
"How far along are you in geography?"
"To page 43."
"No; I mean what subject are you studying?"
"Geography, I think. I'll ask the teacher and be sure."

All Round.
"He is a well posted man."
"He has never accomplished anything."
"But he is well posted."
"I notice that. He is posted at the club half of the time."

Determined.
"She is going to be married."
"You surprise me!"
"Yes, she is."
"When?"
"Soon as she meets the man that she intends to marry and gets him to get her to consent."

Proof.
"I understand that he is dishonest."
"Dishonest? Nonsense!"
"I heard he was."
"It is absurd. Why, he is as poor as Job's turkey."

Evidence.
"He likes the sound of his own voice."
"Has an ear for noise, I suppose."

Tuneful.
The money lender sat at his desk. And it was late at night. Around him silence reigned supreme. Dim was the yellow light. Yet there was music in the air. To it his ear was bent. He heard his dollars everywhere. Each earning its per cent.

Cubical hearts were played at six tables, score cards hand-painted in pink designs being used. Miss Nell Grogan, making the highest number of progressions, was presented with a dainty pair of pink silk hose, while Miss Ellen Norfleet was "consoled" with a pretty hand-embroidered belt in pink. To Miss Geer, the honor guest, the hostess presented a bouquet of pink sweet peas, in a crystal vase.

THIEF TOOK BIG ROSEBUSH.

Aud Was Sentenced to Carry it Back and Replant it.

Belleville, N. J., May 5.—"Just carry that to the police station," said Patrolman Wirtz, when he found Joseph Maronai, 18 years old, plodding along last night under the weight of a rosebush that was attached to a garden ladder, twelve feet high and three feet wide. The total weight was 165 pounds.

Later Clifford Schneider reported that a rosebush and a ladder had been stolen from his lawn and today Justice Ashworth sentenced the thief to carry the bush and ladder back to the lawn. He did so, and Police Chief Flynn stood over him while he replanted the bush. Then Maronai was freed.

Woman's Beauty

Some women retain their beauty to an advanced age. But women, who regularly endure pain, age rapidly, for suffering leaves its lasting marks on them.

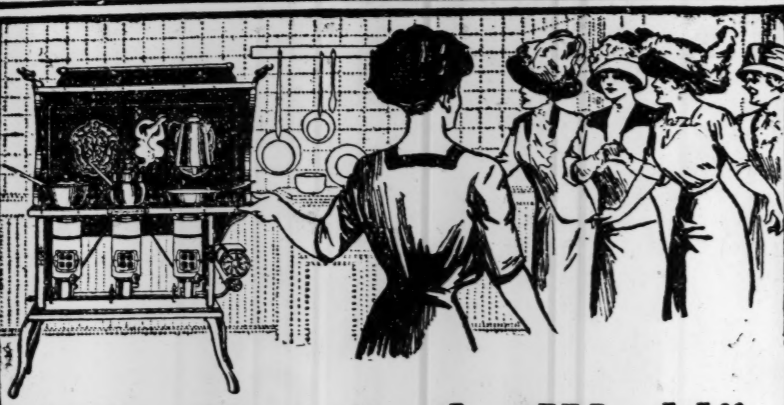

Nearly all women suffer more or less with some form of female trouble. It should not be neglected. Avoid the pain—treat yourself at home by taking Cardui, as thousands of other women have done. Begin at once and give Cardui a fair trial.

TAKE CARDUI

It Will Help You

Mrs. Katie Burlison, Goreville, Ill., tried Cardui and writes: "I suffered with female troubles, and was so sick I could not stand on my feet. Finally I began to take Cardui, and soon began to mend. Now I am able to do all my housework and am in much better health than I was before." Try it.

"The Best in the World"

As the bride led her friends into her cool, spotless kitchen, they broke into a chorus of approval.

"Well, I am proud of it," she said, "and proudest of all of my stove. It's a New Perfection Oil Cook-stove, and I think they are the best in the world. They toast, roast, broil and bake equally well—really to perfection—and the kitchen stays much cooler and cleaner than with any other range. This stove cuts my kitchen work almost in half."

ELON COLLEGE

Elon College, May 5.—President Moffitt has been in Wake Forest this week in the interest of the Special Fund which he is endeavoring to raise and he leaves on Saturday of this week for Pleasant Garden church, Halifax county Va., to do special work in reference to this fund.

Dr. P. H. Fleming, County Superintendent of Schools in Alamance, delivered a most excellent address before the Special Normal Term of the Teachers' Course on Thursday evening. Dr. Fleming chose as the theme of his discussion the "Ministry of Books" and under this theme he brought a wide and sympathetic array of facts and appreciative scholarship. All who heard him had an increased and higher opinion of the power of books both in training the mind and in the development of character.

Mr. Karl Jansen, the Swedish impersonator, will appear on Saturday evening of this week before an Elon audience and will give one of his varied programs. Mr. Jansen has visited the college several times before and will be welcomed again.

On Thursday night, May 11, will occur the certificate recital in the department of music and on the 13th, which is Saturday night, the Y. W. C. A. will give a reception, the purpose of which is to procure funds with which to send representatives to the Summer Institute for young women engaged in college Y. W. C. A. Miss Helen Crane, who is the general secretary of the Y. W. C. A. in this State recently paid the college a visit.

The town election this year was quiet, there being only one ticket in the field, the citizens ticket. Officers were elected as follows: Mayor, W. P. Lawrence, Aldermen: T. C. Amick, W. T. Noah, O. B. Barnes, J. C. McAdams and J. F. Somers.

Elon decisively defeated Bingham School of Mebane in a Tennis tournament, held here on last Monday. Bingham being able to win but one set out of five. Bingham was represented by Long and Bost; Elon by Lincoln and Lincoln.

Going Ahead With the Discussion of Caesar's Head.

"Dr. Cook," says the Greensboro Telegram, "should be employed to head an exploring expedition to Caesar's Head to ascertain if the mountain is really in South Carolina." Dr. Cook has already passed on this question. The mountain was in South Carolina until he spoke a few days ago—Columbia State.

"You're not as young as you used to be, Miss Wellup," urged the gray-haired bachelor, wiping his perspiring brow. "Don't you think you'd better reconsider? I'm your only chance."

"Not at all, Mr. Faralong," said the mature but silly maiden. "You are merely my last chance."

WHO IS TO BLAME

For so Many Sickly Children? We hear of so many children who are thin, delicate, ailing and tired all the time, we are led to ask what is the cause, and who is to blame?

Don't blame the children—they have no strength. They play hard, work hard at school, and rapid growth takes all their strength.

It is the mothers of all such children who are to blame, for if they only realized what our delicious cod liver and iron tonic will do for their little ones, they wouldn't sleep at night until they had started them on Vinol.

Only a few days ago a case came to our attention—Mrs. W. H. Gilmore of Urand, Mich., had a little daughter nine years of age. She was weak, pale, ailing and nothing seemed to do her any good. She gave her Vinol and she began to thrive at once and gained rapidly in weight, color and strength.

We positively know Vinol will build up your little ones and make them healthy, strong and robust. Try a bottle and if you are not satisfied we will return your money. We make this offer to show you our confidence and belief in Vinol. Fariss-Klutznick Drug Co., Greensboro, N. C.

MR. SPLIGER'S ASSISTANT.

There was once a gentleman who sold umbrellas. He had a little umbrella shop, in the window of which was a tremendous swirl made entirely of umbrellas with their points together in the center and their handles sticking out into space. He also sold umbrella stands, and his name was Mr. Splicer. He went to his shop very early in the morning, and he left very late at night, and when he wasn't selling umbrellas he was trying to sell umbrellas. He had an assistant who mended umbrellas, and when he wasn't mending umbrellas he was trying to mend umbrellas.

Every morning at breakfast Mr. Splicer would read the weather report. And as soon as he reached his shop he would go to the windows and say, "What a nice rainy day!" or "What a dismal sunny day!" as the case might be.

Mr. Splicer had a daughter who always looked lovely or was trying to look lovely. And he had a wife who looked happy and contented or else was trying to look happy and contented, and she was the nicest one of the family, although they were all rather nice as families go.

"I'LL HAVE TO GO HOME AND STAY IN-DOORS."

Sometimes the lovely daughter would drop in at her father's shop, and if she were wishing for a clear day and it was raining she would exclaim: "What a dreary day! I'll have to go home and stay indoors!"

But one morning the lovely daughter said at breakfast: "Oh, how glad I am! We are going to have a sunny day, and I can go to the picnic and wear my best new dress!"

To which Mr. Splicer answered, "I shall not sell more than two umbrellas today."

"But, father," the lovely daughter replied, "if I do not go to picnics, but merely try to go to picnics, I would have no use for the best new dresses."

And Mr. Splicer pondered awhile over that and said: "This is a complicated world. I wish to buy my daughter nice new dresses to wear to picnics, and I cannot buy her nice new dresses if it is sunny, and she cannot go to picnics if it rains."

"Father is always saying clever things," said Miss Splicer.

"Or trying to solve difficulties," said Mrs. Splicer, who was always pleasant.

And then Mr. Splicer went off to the umbrella shop, and Miss Splicer went to the picnic.

And in the course of the morning an old lady came into the umbrella shop and said: "Good morning, Mr. Splicer. Do you sell sunshades?"

And Mr. Splicer said: "Why, no; I've never sold sunshades. I've never even tried to sell sunshades."

"Well," said the old lady, "if I leave the order will you try to make a sunshade for me?"

"What color sunshade?" said Mr. Splicer, who was a cautious man.

"Well, suppose we say a pink sunshade," said the old lady. "I think I'll have a pink sunshade."

"A pink sunshade," said Mr. Splicer. "Why, yes; I think I could undertake to make a pink sunshade if you should leave an order for one."

"Very well," said the old lady. "I'll come for it on Wednesday, if you'll please remember. Kindly have it ready then."

And when she had gone Mr. Splicer said to his assistant, "Do you think you could make a pink sunshade?"

"I could try to make a pink sunshade," said the assistant.

"You're a very trying person," said Mr. Splicer, "but go ahead and try."

So the assistant tried and in course of time produced a pink sunshade. He was a trusting assistant and always hoped for the best when he worked on anything.

And when Mr. Splicer saw the sunshade he said, "You are a very helpful helper."

"You called me trying last week," said the assistant.

"Last week you were trying," said Mr. Splicer, "and you were trusting. Now you are tried and trusted. Make me another pink sunshade."

And that is how it happened that Mr. Splicer built up a large and prosperous business in sunshades, so that sunny and rainy days were equally agreeable to him. Thus the family always were happy, and the clever assistant eventually fell in love with Miss Splicer and spent most of his time writing poetry, or trying to write poetry.—St. Nicholas.

Down in Kentucky.

A country correspondent for a Kentucky newspaper once found himself in the mountains of the State looking for items of interest to his journal.

"There ain't a bit of news," said one farmer. "All down this way are too busy with their crops to think of anything else."

"Fine crops this year, eh?" asked the correspondent.

"Couldn't be better," asserted the farmer. "I oughter be in my field right now, an' would be only I come to town to see the coroner."

"The coroner?"

"Yes, he's wanted to hold an inquest on a couple of fellers in our place."

"Accident?"

"I reckon not! Ran Morgan ain't doin' nothing like that by accident! He got Jim Jeffords an' his brother, Tom, with two shots! Got to have an inquest, though."

"What led to the fight?"

"There wasn't no fight. Ran never give the other fellers any chance to make it a fight. Jes' hid behind a tree an' give it to 'em as they came along."

"Has Ran been arrested?"

"No. What's the use? Some o' the Jeffords people come along, burned Ran's house, shot him an' his wife, an' set fire to the barn. No, Ran ain't been arrested. But I ain't got time to stand heah talkin' to you. Got to git back to my harvestin'. But there ain't any news down our way. Ef anything happens I'll let you know."

WAR WARM WORK

The Phrase "Heat of Battle" Not a Mere Figure of Speech.

FIGHTING FIRES THE BLOOD.

An Old Veteran's Story of an Early Morning Attack in Zero Weather and the Change the Skirmish Wrought in His Half Frozen Body.

"The expression 'heat of battle' is more than a mere poetic figure of speech descriptive of the fierce glow of emotion the soldier feels when in the midst of conflict," said a southern soldier who was an officer under Colonel Mosby. "It describes exactly the sensible, physical condition the soldier feels, no matter what the temperature may be."

"That this is true was evidenced by my own experience during the war between the states. It was in February, 1864, and Colonel Mosby, with some hundred of us, was camped near Upperville, a village in Virginia about thirty miles south of Harpers Ferry. Late one afternoon our leader received a dispatch from General Lee to make a forced march that night and attack a body of Federal troops that was stationed on London heights, which overlooked Harpers Ferry. The weather was bitter cold, the coldest that had been known in that section for many years. The mercury was quivering around zero, a six inch fall of snow, half melted and frozen again, made the roads almost impassable, and a stiff north wind, added to these other evils, made the outlook for a pleasant dash of thirty miles a most dismally improbable one.

"It was about sunset when, muffled to the eyes against the biting frost and bitter wind, our column left camp at Upperville. For the first ten miles our squadron, made up of veterans inured to all manner of hardships, did not suffer much, and occasionally some one would even essay a joke. But in the second ten miles the cold, that had slowly eaten its way through overcoat and jacket and shirt, began to bite into our bodies. To restore life to our numb legs we would take our feet from the stirrups and let them hang until the circulation was restored—an old trick with those compelled to ride much in the cold—and we would keep our hands and arms in some measure warm by beating them against our bodies or clapping them severely together.

"The second ten was bad enough, I say, but the last was—well, a polar nightmare. The vitality seemed to be frozen out of man and beast. For hours the horses stumbled through the snow bearing a troop as silent as the dead save for an occasional thumping of some poor devil's half frozen arms against his side as he sought to restore life to the deadened limbs. When I took my foot out of the stirrups to help the circulation I would have to take my hands and lift my legs up to get the feet back in place, so lost to all sensation were they.

"At length about 3 o'clock in the morning we saw the lights of the enemy's picket fires and could distinguish the muffled forms of the sentries as they paced their beats. There was a small strip of woods that ran to within a hundred or less yards of the Federal camp, and in this we formed for the attack. My hands were so cold that I was unable to cock the hammer of my revolver with my thumb, but was compelled to effect it with my teeth, holding the pistol between my numbed fists and drawing back the hammer by gripping it in my teeth and pulling it back until it caught.

"At length all was in readiness. As I sat there, barely able to grasp my revolver, the 'Charge' rang out, and the next moment we were in the midst of the enemy, who were too astounded at an attack on such a bitter night to offer much resistance and for the most part fled down to Harpers Ferry to the main body. Some of them, however, put up a stout fight for men awakened from warm sleep to fight to the death in the bitter night air, and for a couple of minutes we had all we could do, but it was soon over, and we were in possession of the camp.

"When I came to myself I found I was sitting with one leg thrown over the pommel of my saddle, my overcoat and jacket flung wide open, while my shirt, opened to the last button, allowed a grateful zero zephyr to play upon my bare sweating breast. In my hand, from which I had pulled the glove, moist with sweat, I was holding my hat, with which I was vigorously fanning myself.

"And less than five minutes before I had been so chilled that had I been in a comfortable house with a physician at hand he would have filled me full of hot drinks, wrapped me in blankets and kept me in bed a couple of days.

"No," concluded the veteran, "the 'heat of battle' is something more than a mere figure of speech."—New York Times.

Pills to Prevent Earthquakes.

"I remember," says Addison in the two hundred and fortieth Tatler, "when our whole island was shaken with an earthquake some years ago there was an impudent mountebank who sold pills which, as he told the country people, were 'very good against an earthquake.'"—Letter in London Saturday Review.

Not Sisters

Now and again you see two women passing down the street who look like sisters. You are astonished to learn that they are mother and daughter, and you realize that a woman at forty or forty-five ought to be at her finest and fairest. Why isn't it so? The general health of woman is so intimately associated with the local health of the essentially feminine organs that there can be no red cheeks and round form where there is female weakness.

Women who have suffered from this trouble have found prompt relief and cure in the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It gives vigor and vitality to the organs of womanhood. It clears the complexion, brightens the eyes and reddens the cheeks.

No alcohol, or habit-forming drugs is contained in "Favorite Prescription." Any sick woman may consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free. Principals In "Snobbery" Case; Captain Bowyer Leaves Annapolis

Representative Charles A. Korbly is not satisfied with the apology of Captain John M. Bowyer, superintendent of the Naval academy at Annapolis, to Miss Mary Beers, who was the victim of alleged "snobbery" at the academy, and threatens a congressional investigation into the matter. Miss Beers is a daughter of Professor H. A. Beers of Yale university. A slighting remark was made about her by some one at the academy following her presence at a hop there recently, and the secretary of the navy directed Bowyer to send a letter of apology, which he did. Now Bowyer has asked to be relieved of his position, and he will be succeeded on May 15 by Captain John H. Gibbons, a member of the general board of the navy.

NO CHANCE FOR TARIFF BILLS

Democrats Know Farmers' Free List Is Lost.

POSSIBLE TO REDUCE DUTIES

Measures Thus Far Presented in the House Tend to Solidify the Republicans—Senator Lodge Again Chairman of the Immigration Committee, a Place He Quit Years Ago.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, May 5. — (Special.)—

There may be a question of the sincerity of the Democrats in the method they have adopted in regard to tariff legislation. It must be said in all candor that the Democrats do not believe that there is the slightest possibility of the senate passing or the president signing the farmers' free list bill.

Twenty years ago the Democrats, when they obtained control of the house, passed "popgun" tariff bills, just as they are now doing. It is true that they won in the next election, but it cannot be said that they won because of those bills.

If the Democrats are not sincere in the present instance the people will know it. Moreover, it is quite possible that a tariff bill moderately reducing present duties could be framed which would receive Republican support in the senate and be passed. But the bills thus far presented tend to solidify the Republican factions.

Back to Immigration.

An interesting phase of the senate committee assignments is that Senator Lodge resumes the chairmanship of the committee on immigration, which he relinquished many years ago. Lodge has long wanted to be chairman of foreign relations, but Senator Cullom does not seem inclined to let go of that place.

Lodge is one of the men long in service with good committee assignments, but without any good chairmanships. He is now fourth in point of service in the senate, and yet he is not chairman of any important committee. Gallinger is third in service and is chairman of the District of Columbia committee. Nelson is seventh in rank and is chairman of public lands.

Champ's Timepiece.

Every day just before calling the house to order Speaker Clark takes out his watch and compares it with the clock opposite him in the hall of the house.

"I have been trying for years to get a timepiece which would keep time," remarked Champ to a friend. "It seems to me that every watch I ever had was either too fast or too slow or something was the matter with it." But the speaker is never late in calling the house to order. For more than thirty years Henry Neal, the messenger of the speaker's room, has notified the speaker when he should enter the house. If any speaker has failed to be on time it was not Neal's fault.

Introducing the Ohio Idea.

Senator Pomerene in the senate and Congressman Goetze in the house propose to advance the Ohio idea in dealing with public funds. They have introduced identical bills for the loan of public money to the highest bidder instead of to chosen banks selected by the secretary of the treasury, as at present. Now the government receives 1 per cent interest. Under the new scheme it is likely to get at least 3 per cent.

Didn't Reach Florida.

A group of men were sitting around a table enjoying a course of grapefruit. "I have recently been in the tropical islands," said one, "and I saw great quantities of this luscious food rotting on the ground. There is a tariff duty of $1.50 per box on it, and that is enough to keep much of it from coming to this country. I observe that grapefruit does not appear in the new free list bill. Tariff reform did not reach as far south as Florida."

Mann's Caustic Comment.

"This house is organized for economy," remarked Congressman Mann, the minority leader, to a group of Democrats, "and yet the only committee which is now at work is that of public buildings and grounds. It is going about Washington laying the foundation for an expenditure of $100,000,000 for buildings in the city for the government service."

The Illinois man referred to the investigation that is going on of the rented buildings in Washington, many of which are fire traps and overcrowded. Valuable records are in danger of loss. In fact, it has often been claimed that the United States should have its own buildings in the capital for its use.

Judicious Publicity.

General Edwards, chief of the bureau of insular affairs, who has long been associated with President Taft, believes that judicious publicity is a good thing in governmental affairs. He is quite an advertiser of his own bureau and has always been able to maintain an interest in our insular possessions even when they were not cutting each other to pieces or murdering Americans. The general thinks the changes recently made at the executive offices will result in more publicity and a greater advantage to the government.

One Mile.

The weary traveler was trying to get to Swamptown, but "going" was by no means easy. Green ponds and mossy bogs met him at every turn, the roads were slushed with mud from the heavy rains, and the fields were quagmires. "How far to Swamptown?" he inquired of a whistling youth, after two hours' tiring wading.

"One mile as the crow flies!" came the answer.

The traveler looked ahead at the unpleasant prospect. "H'm!" he muttered. "I think you're wrong, my boy. Looks more like one mile as the duck waddles!"

Mrs. Bristow, mother of the Rev. Canon Rhodes, Bristow, M. A., of Southwark Cathedral, London, has attained the age of 104. The old lady, except for the past year or two, lived in Greenwich all her life, and is wonderfully active, both mentally and physically, considering her great age.

MILLIONS OF PEOPLE USE ONLY 'CASCARETS'

They Never Have Headache, Biliousness, Sluggish, Inactive Bowels or a Bad Stomach to Make Them Miserable.

A million boxes a month. That's the sale of Cascarets. And every tablet in every box means a day of good cheer. Think what a world of happiness this candy laxative has brought to men and women—also the children. Are you getting your share?

Cascarets cure bowel troubles when they have developed. But that is the least of their uses. Their best service is to prevent the many ills that come from inactive bowels. Think of the days when you are not at your best. The mornings when you don't feel right, the afternoons when you are lousy, the evenings when you are irritable. The cause lies in the bowels.

One Cascaret makes everything different. Don't say "I'll take it to-night." Take it at once. Carry a box in your pocket. The hours before bedtime are too good to be wasted. Their action is as natural as the action of fruit on the bowels. They are sold by all druggists at 10 cents per box.

PATRIOTS LOST ONCE MORE TO SPINNERSTOWN

Greenville, S. C., May 5.—Martin in the box for the locals during the first five and half innings would have lost the game by his wildness and inability, but for the long, opportune hits of the locals and his successor, who with one out and the bases full in the sixth, let the side down without a score and allowed only three hits afterwards. Errors by Greensboro counted.

Greensboro 300 004 000—7 11 4
Batteries: Martin, Jamison and Kite; Eldridge, Stewart and Nugent.

SPARTANBURG'S SHORT-STOP LOST GAME FOR MUSICIANS

Charlotte, May 5.—McDuff, Spartanburg's shortstop, threw the game away today after his manager, Bill Laval, had won it from Charlotte. In the ninth inning with the score standing 2 to 1 against Charlotte, Woodson batted one to the infield and McDuff became suddenly excited and tossed it far away from first. The tying run was scored, and the winning one came a minute later when another ball to second baseman was improperly fielded. Two were out when McDuff made the error. Hill pitched well for the Spartanburg crowd, allowing but three hits, though losing his game. Smith pitched to the last man in the inning. Walters worked for Charlotte and permitted six hits but kept them scattered. The game was the most exciting one played here this season.

Score by innings: R. H. E.
Spartanburg 000 100 001—2 8 4
Charlotte 000 000 102—3 3 2
Batteries: For Charlotte, Walters and Canny; for Spartanburg, Hill, Smith and Westlake.

ELECTRICIANS SHORT CIRCUITED

Winston-Salem, May 5.—Ray, the young Whitsett recruit, was hit for eleven safeties by Anderson this afternoon, and since the Twins could not find Coombs the second of the series went to the Electricians 5 to 2. The Twins fielded a bit more cleanly than Anderson, but nothing could have been better than the work of McCarthy at third and W. Kelly at short for the Electricians.

In the hitting W. Kelly and McCarthy featured. The former getting three singles and a home run out of four times at bat, the latter a single, a double and a home-run out of five times up. Notwithstanding the pounding he got Ray showed up well, fielding his position perfectly and throwing to bases with the precision of an old-timer.

Anderson 200 111 000—5
Winston-Salem 000 200 000—2
Batteries: For Anderson, Coombs and Klock; for Winston-Salem, Ray and Galvin.

Cotton Mass Meeting in Meridian, Miss.

Meridian, Miss., May 5.—A most interesting program has been arranged for the Cotton Growing Mass-Meeting to be held in this city Thursday, May 25th, at 2 p. m., following the conference at which President W. W. Finley of the Southern Railway, the Mobile and Ohio Railroad and the Alabama Great Southern Railroad, will meet T. O. Plunkett, general agent of the Cotton Culture Department of these roads, and the seven field agents working under him. At this conference the work thus far done in aiding farmers to fight the boll weevil and to increase the yield per acre will be reviewed and plans for the future discussed.

Representatives of the United States Department of Agriculture, the Mississippi and Alabama Departments, and the Agricultural Colleges of Mississippi and Alabama will take part in this conference and in the mass-meeting.

Col. R. M. Street will preside over the mass-meeting as the representative of the Meridian Board of Trade and Cotton Exchange which is taking an active interest in the gathering. Hon. G. W. Parker, mayor of Meridian, will deliver the address of welcome and addresses will be made by the following:

Hon. Bradford Knapp, in charge of Farmers' Co-operative Demonstration Work U. S. Department of Agriculture; Hon. H. E. Blakeslee, Commissioner of Agriculture of Mississippi; Hon. R. F. Kolb, Commissioner of Agriculture of Alabama; Dr. J. C. Hardy, president of Mississippi Agricultural and Mechanical College; Dr. C. C. Thach, president of Alabama Polytechnic Institute; W. W. Finley, president Southern Railway and affiliated companies; T. O. Plunkett, general agent Cotton Culture Department Southern Railway, and affiliated companies.

Informal talks will also be made by representative cotton growers of Mississippi and Alabama, a large number of whom are expected to attend the meeting. Special reduced rates have been made from all stations in Alabama and Mississippi on all railroads entering Meridian. "How To Increase the Production of Cotton per Acre" and "How to Control the Mexican Cotton Boll Weevil" will be the keynote of all addresses and the meeting should be of great benefit to the cotton growers of Mississippi and Alabama.

Mr. Plunkett and his agents have all had practical experience in growing cotton in boll weevil territory and it is the purpose of President Finley to make the Cotton Culture Department as helpful as possible to all cotton growers in the territory traversed by the Southern Railway system.

"What's the hardest thing about roller skating when you're learning?" asked a hesitating young man of the instructor at a rink.

"The floor," answered the attendant.

"Why Johnny! Your little sister is shelling two quarts of peas to your one!"

"Well, I told the little chump about it, but it didn't do no good."

Hines Judge of Municipal Court

At yesterday's meeting of the Board of Commissioners C. A. Hines was elected as substitute Judge of Municipal Court for the next two years. Mr. Hines has had experience in Municipal Court, having acted as assistant prosecuting attorney for the past two years.

Three applicants were granted license to operate motor vehicles in the city.

A bill of Hook & Rogers for superintending the construction of the Spring Street High School building was ordered paid.

Then followed a general discussion of the work of the several commissioners and the location of the offices of each. They inspected the lower floor of the city hall after the meeting and discussed the advisability of several changes in the present arrangement. However, no definite action was taken.

THE BUILDING OF CARS AT HIGH POINT.

High Point, May 5.—Ralph Waldo Morrison and E. T. Robinson were in the city yesterday on business connected with the reorganization of the Southern Car Company. These gentlemen are from St. Louis, and have been in the business of building trolley and other cars very extensively.

The reorganized Southern Car Company will have a large capital. It will build about 500 cars a year. The new company was organized yesterday with Mr. J. Etwood Cox, chairman of the board of directors, Mr. Ralph Waldo Morrison president, Mr. Abram Cook vice president, Mr. E. T. Robinson, general manager. In speaking of a capacity of 500 cars annually, that is what the company is now equipped to do. This capacity will be very considerably enlarged when the physical plant is enlarged and overhauled which it will be. There will be erected new buildings of brick, steel and concrete, one of which will be 80x25 for dry kilns, and others for different purposes. The reorganized plant will be ready to start operations in about 30 days. The new management is in full charge now. The gentlemen who comprise the new management have looked the Southern field over thoroughly. They come from a car-building city and section. They have great faith in this as a section in which to build cars and one that will develop industrially in a way to make a larger demand for cars.

Man Wanted Here Will be Returned From Galveston

Sheriff B. E. Jones and Deputy Sheriff George P. Crutchfield left last night for Galveston, Texas, to bring back Thomas B. Armfield who is wanted here on the charge of abandonment. A true bill was returned against Armfield at the February term of Superior Court and a capias issued for his arrest.

It was learned a couple of weeks ago that Armfield was located in Galveston and the first step was to secure registration papers. These were secured several days ago and a warrant was forwarded to the Galveston chief of police, ordering the arrest of Armfield. Yesterday a wire was received, stating that he was being held for the Guilford authorities.

New Seats At Station.

The Southern railway has installed a number of new and substantial seats in the waiting room at the passenger station, the new seats being much more comfortable than the old ones. Besides there are more of them. Formerly there were about half a dozen double seats in the white waiting room and not infrequently every seat was taken and many had to stand. Now the seating capacity of the waiting room is practically doubled.
